INDIAN FIGHT IN MONTANA—NINE SAVAGES AND ONE WHITE MAN KILLED.

Correspondence of the Helena (Montana) Post.

Bozeman was thrown into a sudden state of excitement on Tuesday evening last by the return of the Indian fighters, under command of Captain Cliff and Lieutenant Thompson. A terrible Indian yell was heard by those indoors that was enough to startle the dead, and on rushing out the sight that we met was at first appalling.—Down the street, on a full gallop, came the returning squadron, all trimmed and painted in due Indian costume, with trophies floating in the air. After our first surprise and slight incident to being captured and scalped on the instant had subsided, the truth was made apparent that the Fort Ellis boys had returned, their efforts crowned with glorious results, and the Indians completely routed. The exultation of the happy denizens was a testimonial of their gratitude to Captain Cliff and his brave command, as well as the heroic citizens who accompanied him, and will long be remembered.

A party of twelve Indians had been overtaken, nine of them killed and one wounded. But this was not accomplished without much hard fighting and sad loss.

The following is a list of the casualities:

Terrence Conry, company D, killed.

Michael Fitzgerald, company F, wounded—ankle.

George Crason, company G, wounded—elbow.

Lafayette Pool, a citizen, wounded—head.

Thomas F. King, a citizen, wounded—left cheek.

John Cashaw, a citizen, wounded—hand, (slight)

The wounded are all doing well, and will recover. An ambulance was sent out, and brought in the body of Conry, who was buried at Fort Ellis on Saturday, the 10th, with military honors. His home is in Lyons, Iowa.

The following are the particulars of the engagement, so far as we could learn:

The pursuit was commenced on Monday, April 5th, and on the third day, the 7th, the Indians, twelve in number, were overtaken about noon, by the advance guard, upon the North Fork of Sixteen Mile Creek, and about seventy-five miles distant. From signs discovered there were supposed to be other bands of Indians in the vicinity, and that they had scattered in different directions on the approach of the pursuers.—The Indians fled to the top of a very rough mountain upon which was a fortification formed by nature, almost impregnable. Here they imagined they were safe from the attacks of a host, and from this point commenced shaking their blankets at the men and making several other demonstrations of hostilities, daring them to "come on," cursing and swearing in very plain English.

Captain Cliff divided his forces, sending Lieutenant Thompson upon the east and surrounding the mountain. Then came the ascent, and a raking fire from the Indians. The summit was reached at last, and from the crags and roughness of the surface they were enabled to obtain positions that completely surrounded the Indians, and from which they could fire with safety. A point was gained above the fortifications from which they could fire with telling effect. Nearer and nearer the men began to gather about them, creeping from point to point, and firing whenever an Indian raised a gun or made a movement.

The Indians saw at this juncture there was no further hope for them, and sang their death song. Nearly half of their number were killed or disabled. The firing had been going on for upwards of two hours, and the sun was getting low. Fearing that darkness would overtake them before finishing their work, and the Indians would yet make their escape, Captain Cliff called for volunteers from those nearest the fortification to make a charge. A half dozen or a dozen men sprang for the walls with revolvers, the Indians making the last faint struggle for life. It was here that Conry fell. King was shot at the same time with an arrow through the left cheek, dislocating a tooth, and Pool received a severe wound in the forehead with an arrow, the point running under the scalp, but without injury to the skull. But the work was finished, and nine dead bodies lay before them. Two of the Indians had escaped during the early part of the engagement, the third having previously departed on a pony captured from the surveyor. The last Indian escaping was discovered before out of reach of firearms, and received a severe wound. Large quantities of blood were discovered and traced quite a distance, until reaching the creek it was lost. Search was made for the remaining number, but without success.—They were fortunately spared to tell the story to their tribe as a warning for the future.

Among the dead was a blood called "Jim," and recognized by Neil Campbell, who had known him a long time as a "friendly." They were all well armed, having revolvers and one or two Henry rifles, with plenty of ammunition; were dressed in soldiers' clothes, all wearing the regulation plumes, showing they have been accustomed to stop about frontier posts, and beautiful recipients of many favors from the foistering hand of their indulgent uncle.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING.

Let the sentimental and the sanguine say what they will, and the thoughtless or the sinful make no sign that reveals their consciousness of the drift of passing events, there are mutterings in the air, and an ill-concealed disquietude, and forecasted shadows that are said to tell of coming events, which weigh with apprehension upon the more thoughtful, the more solicitous, and those in whom a wise conservatism is naturally a characteristic and a creed, and without which and without whose influence chaos would be the normal condition of society, and anarchy the normal condition of government. Whence these mutterings arise, or precisely what they portend, or whether they are the shadowy premonitions of partial or complete overthrows, it is difficult and, perhaps, unnecessary here to state with precision; this we at least know and feel—and it is enough to rouse the most lethargic and thoughtless of us to a keener sense of the danger that certain developments indicate—that they bode no good to us or our children, the people, the Government, and the institutions under which we live. No one can catch the drift of things, the transitions that are taking place, the new and strange ideas that are being persistently and artfully instilled into the public mind, the meanings with which they are received, and the indignation which they awaken, without realizing that a very great change has come, and, perhaps, a still greater impending, over the American people. A few years ago, and the signs and symptoms to which we refer, had the more than signs and symptoms—the undisguised acts—that appear to us, would have filled the country with alarm, and brought down upon all responsible for them, or in sympathy with them, such a storm of denunciation as none, nothing could have withstood. The very fact that such is not the case now—that the infected poison is allowed to work, not, perhaps, without protest, but certainly without unity and adequate remedies being applied to counteract its deadly influences—is as augury anything but good and hopeful (indeed, it cannot be otherwise than depressing) to all who cling to the old faith which made this people free, and to the old ideas on which that faith was founded. People have begun to talk loosely, to think loosely, to revere and reverence nothing, to tolerate sad and ravenous inroads upon their old and well guarded political convictions, to listen to proposed novelties, to try experiments; and, in doing all this the faith is becoming unsettled and the old foundations slipping from under them. They are beginning to tamper with their inheritance, and their inheritance is losing its value in their eyes. They are forgetting what it cost, what blessings it has shed upon them, and how it has never failed them when rightly understood and the lessons taught in the winnings of it—if not by them, by braver souls that went before them—remembered. In all of it is there is much food for reflection, and not a little ground for serious misgivings.—National Intelligencer.

THE CUBAN QUESTION.

In another place we have published some very interesting facts which deserve the attention of our readers. We doubt not that we are on the eve of new and startling events that are pregnant with weal or woe to the American people. It is apparent to every attentive reader of Northern newspapers that there is a strong feeling of sympathy in the North for the Cuban insurrectionists, and that this sympathy is now finding expression in the large preparations that have been made, and are still making, for a bold and surprising raid upon Cuba.

The New York Herald, that always swims or tries to swim with the popular current, and which is generally highly successful in detecting fluctuations in the tide of popular feeling, contains the following paragraph in its issue of the 7th. It evidently desires to force the President to commit the government to the recognition of Cuba as a belligerent, if not to even persuade him to get bolder steps in the direction of aggression upon Spanish authority. It says:

"The administration will do well to observe the popular instinct. That the public mind is in active and full sympathy with the Cubans, who are struggling to throw off the yoke of Spain, and to annex that fertile island to our political Union, no man who can read the signs of the times will doubt. The thronged public meetings which have been witnessed in many of our larger cities to express sympathy with the cause, the avidity with which intelligence from the island is sought for, and the prominent discussion which the leading journals in all parts of the country give to the question and its affiliating issues, all indicate that there is something more than a passing sentiment at work among the people.—It is the unfailing indication that for Cuba the fullness of time is approaching when she must follow her destiny, no matter what courts or cabinets may think or wish. In all questions of national development the people are always in advance of their rulers, and these are ever compelled to follow, not to guide, the national will."

It then goes on to show and to justify the moderate policy of President Adams towards Cuba, but thinks, somehow, a great change has taken place, and now that public sentiment is so strongly in favor of the insurgents, it concludes its advice as follows:

People not only sympathize with them in their struggle, but the national instinct, ever quick, perceives that the time has come to drive out these European picket posts along our shore, and feels strong in the ability to do it. The national government may find complications to attend the argument, but these will disappear if it is true to the national feeling and the national instinct, that wants no more governments in America antagonistic to American ideas.—Danger can arise only from the irresolution or treachery of the Secretary of State and his clinging to the precepts which governed John Quincy Adams' administration fifty years ago, while he forgets the immense advance the nation has made since that time. The administration of President Grant may safely do what Adam's could not—take its cue from the unerring instinct of the popular mind."

We do not undertake to say that the rebels should not be recognized as belligerents, if they are really making strong headway against Spanish rule, and there is, apparently good reason for supposing that they will finally succeed. But the question is, will not the line of policy antagonize with the past action of our government, and also contradict the utterances of the Northern people through their chosen journals when England was denounced for acknowledging the Southern Confederacy, although we then had large armies in the field. Our people are not always consistent with themselves, and it may be, that it can be established to be exactly right in our government to recognize the Cuban insurgents as belligerents, although if such a course were to militate against the prejudices of our people or the interests of government, it might also be established that the opposite was precisely correct and just also.

We do not think that it is prudent or politic in our government to permit armed expeditions to leave our shores for purposes of aggression upon the rights of a nation with which we are at peace. All remember the Lopez expedition, and its disastrous results. Many of our most chivalrous young men were sacrificed. It may be that hundreds of others will fall victims to Spanish cruelty and determination. Or it may be that other aggressions will follow, and as predicted elsewhere, a war may ensue, in which the parties will not be Spain and the United States only. We believe it would be really humane in Gen. Grant to stop such expeditions as that which sailed last week from New York, rather than to either wink at or connive at their departure.

THE telegraph announces that R. W. Lassiter, of Granville, has been appointed pension agent at Raleigh. We understand that the duties of this office are extremely troublesome, and the pay is extremely small. It is worth about $400. We should suppose that our "Kildee and squirrel letter correspondent" would soon become a "persoloner" himself upon Federal bounty, with only a $400 salary to support him.—Why don't Senator Lassiter run for Congress? Dewease, a carpet-bagger, will go by the board. That much is resolved upon. Ajax has hit the entire nut a blow, quoth Colonel Sinclair. Wiley Jones is aspiring to Dewease's place, but our "Kildee correspondent" has more brains than Wiley.

Sam Allen having witnessed the third deposit of $500 in his match for a pedestrian with McCool, has gone into training.

WHAT WE SAW AT HALIFAX.

We saw the old house in which the wise men of North Carolina assembled on the 12th day of November 1776, to frame the Constitution, which so long protected us in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property. We saw the old Church in which Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Ash and Mrs. Powell, use to pray for the safety of their husbands and children, who had gone out to do battle for freedom and for them.—We saw, too, the ruins of the houses where these goodly matrons in their girlhood "tripped the light fantastic" with the boys. Mrs. Ellet, in her "Women of the Revolution," mentions the names of Mrs. Willie Jones, Mrs. Allen Jones and Mrs. Nicholas Long as women whose patriotic zeal gave tone to public sentiment and courage to the men of '76.

We saw where Cornwallis, in May 1781, crossed the Roanoke at the old town of Halifax. He rested there for a day or two, taking possession of the best houses, as Estes and Kilpatrick did at Durham's.—How Estes and Kilpatrick behaved at the house of Dr. Blackmall, we leave for that gentleman and the good people of Durham's to tell. How Tarleton, at the house of Mrs. Jones, behaved, history has already told.

Tarleton, in the house and presence of this lady, spoke contemptuously of Col. William Washington, from whom he had received a sabre cut on the hand at the battle of the Cowpens. Tarleton said he was an "ignorant fellow, who could hardly write his name." "Ah, Colonel," said the lady, "you can testify he knows how to make his mark."

General Leslie was a gentleman, he was quartered at the house of Mrs. Ashe, who was sister to Mrs. Jones. When Col. Tarleton came one day to call on him, the latter said he would be happy to see the rebel Colonel, Washington. Mrs. Ashe said you could have had that pleasure, Colonel, if you had looked behind you at the battle of the Cowpens. Tarleton grasped the hilt of his sword like Butler at New Orleans, as if he would have vengeance on the woman. General Leslie came to the rescue, and said, "say what you please Mrs. Ashe, Colonel Tarleton knows better than to insult a lady in my presence."

Mrs. Ashe is not mentioned in Mrs. Ellet's "Women of the Revolution." She should be for her rebuke to Tarleton entitles her to a place in history, whoever writes it.—Tarleton in his history of the campaigns in the Southern provinces of North America, mentions the fact, that a Sergeant and a Dragoon were executed at Halifax, for rape and robbery. Robbery was as common in the Yankee army as marching, yet, how few were executed for it.

Halifax was without a Hotel, but the private boarding house of Miss Harriet Devereaux supplied that want. No one regretted the closing of the old Hotel who stopped at this well kept boarding house. Miss Harriet, in June, will open a house in Beaufort. The butter on Miss Harriet's table was the talk of all the boarders.—Upon inquiry, we learned it was made by a lady in Halifax, who has more loudness for books than butter making.

By the by, this lady makes her own tea as well as butter, nor is it sassafras or yeopon, but real China, grown in the open garden. We have seen her tea growing luxuriantly in the garden, and enjoyed it at the table, pronouncing it good, not out of compliment to the lady, but because it was good.

We stopped at Weldon, visiting the mills and workshops. Why Weldon is not a great manufacturing town is not accounted for, by saying "nature has failed to do her part." We think Halifax in everything that pertains to agriculture, the second county in the State, Edgecombe being first.

IMPORTED WAR MINSTER.

Those who wish to breed from a thorough bred horse should remember that War Minster can be found at the stables of Peter Davis, Esq., near Warrenton.

War Minster is said to be the finest horse ever brought from beyond the big waters.

The North will do all the racing in this country for the next hall century as the South is too poor for such diversion. We can profitably engage in raising horses for them while they reap the sin of racing, just as we bore the sin of holding slaves to make cotton, while the Yankee reaped all the fruits of slavery by spinning the cotton into cloth. Now we can engage in the innocent and profitable employment of horse raising, for the Yankee to send his soul to ——. A contumacious rebel at our elbow says, if that is to be the result, he wants a colt from War Minster; but such sentiments are not loyal and only worthy of Holden who called Edward Everett "one of the most elegant devils out of hell."

"INSPECTION" TRAVELERS.

We have no doubt that a lare number of persons are traveling in the South under the false pretence of wanting to buy lands, so as to get railroad, hotel and other accommodations free. We think some people in this section have been "gulled" in this way.

North Carolina is one of the best localities in the world to live in, and will soon command the attention of those who really want cheap land and a pleasant home, no matter whether they are charged full railroad and hotel fare or not while professing to be inspecting the country. The Northern men who come out here to look about will receive all the courtesy due gentlemen, and if they locate in our midst will meet with a hearty welcome, but in the meantime we think it would be best to make them pay their way. If the Southern people have anything to give in the way of charity let it be bestowed on the destitute women and children among us, and not on traveling excursionists even if led by members and ex-members of Congress.—*Char. PEN AND INK SKETCHES OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, AS IT HAS BEEN.

DEDICATED TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE, AND TO THE ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY.

No. 6.

DR. PHILLIPS.

If thoroughness was a characteristic of the teaching at Chapel Hill, it follows that fidelity to duty was a strongly marked trait in the Teachers. Of none could this be said more truly than of the staunch old Englishman, Dr. James Phillips. He was a man who, above all others I ever knew, never allowed a question of expediency to interfere with his notions of right.

HIS AIMS.

He came to North Carolina in 1826, and his first impressions of the University resulted rather in disappointment. I have heard him say that for several years he would have been glad to get away at any time, and nothing but his attachment to Dr. Caldwell, and the influence which the President exerted on him, kept him at the place. He was an ardent and enthusiastic Mathematician, and he wanted to introduce new methods of study, and more of it, than young North Carolinians, as a body (either then or since) was willing to accept. He believed then, and to the last of his life, in the discipline of the mind resulting from the study of the exact sciences, as the most important of all aids in its cultivation.

He gave himself to hard study, to close and patient investigation of the great Problems whose solution the higher Mathematics holds out to its enthusiastic votaries as its most splendid rewards. His library showed that the books which he gathered around him forty years ago were the great folios of the Masters, La Place, La Lande, and Delambre, of Newton, and Ferguson, and Hutton. He went to the well heads always. Among his MSS. are many translations of the French Mathematical works written with an elegance and precision that defy criticism. His elaborate returns, on Natural Philosophy, for his classes, were written in the same style, and of the hundreds of his MSS. sermons, not one showed a blot, or an erasure, or an interlineation.

HIS WAY.

In his early years he was very active in person, gay and curt in his address, and fond of good society and of good cheer.—But as his concentration upon the absorbing studies which he loved increased, and as years came on, he gradually gave up one by one his out door exercises and settled himself to his work and his study. For many years the steady light in his library window was the last seen at night in the village.

Whatever Dr. Phillips undertook to do, he would do conscientiously. He prepared and thought over every recitation he was to hear in College as carefully to the very last day of his life as if he were himself to recite it to a higher master. He studied every sermon he was to preach to a country congregation, as if it were to be his last. And it was owing to this, that exact and unvarying as the routine of his life was for many years, he never fell into formality. His daily prayers at the family altar and in the College Chapel were always fresh and ardent.

If he read a book it was done exhaustively and he seldom needed to read it twice. If he wrote a note to a neighbor, or a letter to a friend, the same deliberate elegance marked every line and letter. His punctuality in the performance of his College duties was proverbial. He invariably left his study at a quarter before the recitation hour, and cane in hand, might be seen crossing the campus at precisely ten minutes. Very unlike his forty years colleague, Dr. Mitchell, he did not like to have many irons in the fire at once. He wanted his work well defined and uncrowded. He liked not to give advice, or to meddle in other men's business. He preferred a quiet smoke and talk with a friend, by way of recreation, to a ten mile breezy walk over hill and dale.

HIS LIBRARY.

His reading was not so miscellaneous as Dr. Mitchell's, nor was his library so extensive. Dr. Mitchell bought many books merely from curiosity,—books that he found were worth only "a dip" into. Dr. Phillips accumulated books more slowly, but there were very few among the two thousand that he left behind whose value was not standard. And few that he had not as Lord Bacon advises, "thoroughly chewed and digested.

THE EXAMINATION PAPERS.

That library has been broken up only this past winter. Passing by the house one day when the debris and litter of forty years' accumulation were being swept out, I picked up a paper which proved to be one of the Examination Papers prepared for the classes fifteen or twenty years ago—the questions in Dr. Phillips' own unmistakable handwriting. With a sigh and a smile one looks over such a reminder of a day that is dead. How many of the Alumni to whom these sketches are dedicated will solve these questions now? "A cone, the radius of whose base is 5 feet, and its height 10 feet, is filled with water. Required the pressure on its base." "A luminous point is placed 3 feet from the surface of a concave mirror of one inch radius. Find the point to which the rays converge."

On another loose scrap were what the Doctor called "choice extracts" from the papers received from the classes, with the names of the perpetrators annexed. As thus:

"A fluid is a property of particles which flows easily along." S.

"Watt invented steam." T.

If a piece of tape has the shorter end immersed in a tumbler of water, and the longer end to extend below the surface of the water, it will be observed to drip." N.

"Coulomb discovered an hydrometer." P.

"This engine worked by steam produced by the pressure of air. Watt raised water to create steam, which was much less expensive." W.

This, I am persuaded is what the Doctor meant, when he so often charged his classes against "overstepping the modesty of nature."

OUT OF COLLEGE.

Dr. Phillips, like all his colleagues, was a social, genial man, although a student. A rigid task-master and disciplinarian in the recitation room, he unbent as soon as he came out of it. He tolerated young folks, and he loved a joke. True Englishman as he was in his out-spoken honesty and bluntness, and independence, yet he never made an enemy. Little children pulled at his gown, and chained him for a play-fellow. Our last recollections of this simple minded scholar and true gentleman, are, as he sat in his study chair, with a large old fashioned black leather bound Bible open before him, and one of his little grand daughters asleep on his breast.

SAMUEL ROGERS, THE POET.

There was much to render life agreeable to a man of Rogers' tastes, it must be owned. He saw Garrick, and watched the entire career of every good actor since. All the Kembles fell within his span. He heard the first remarks on the Vicar of Wakefield, and read, damp from the press, all the fiction that has appeared since from the Burneys, the Edgeworths, the Scotts, the Dickenses, and the Thackerays. As for the poetry, he was aghast at the rapidity with which the Scotts, Byrons, and Moores poured out their works; and even Campbell was too quick for him—he, with all his leisure, and being always at it, producing to the amount of two octavo volumes in his whole life. The charge of haste and incompleteness alleged against his "Columbus," in the Edinburgh Review, forty years since, was very exasperating to him, and so absurd that one cannot but suspect Sydney Smith of being the author of it, for the sake of contrast with his conversational description of Rogers' method of composition. Somebody asked, one day, whether Rogers had written anything lately. "Only a couplet," was the reply—(the couplet being his celebrated epigram on Lord Dudley.) "Only a couplet!" exclaimed Sydney Smith; "why, what would you have? When Rogers produces a couplet, he goes to bed, and the knocker is tied—the straw is laid down, and caudle is made—and the answer to inquiries is, that Mr. Rogers is as well as can be expected."—Thus, while he was thus cogitating his few pages of verse, "daily adding couplets," as Moore said, showing a forthcoming poem in boards, "but still making alterations," he was now and then seeing a whole new world of poetical subject and treatment laid open, and not seldom helping to facilitate the disclosure. Moore always said that he owed to Rogers the idea of "Lalla Rookh." Rogers had lingered so long over his story of the "Foscari" that Byron did it first to his great distress; but he received the drams with very good grace. Meantime, he was substantially helping poor poets. Beside the innumerable instances, known only to his inmates, of the attention he bestowed, as well as the money, in the case of poetical basket makers, poetical footmen, and other such hopeless sons of the muse, his deeds of munificence toward men of genius were too great to be concealed. His aids to Moore have been recently made known by the publication of Moore's diaries. It was Rogers who secured to Crabbe the £3,000 from Murray, which were in jeopardy before. He advanced £500 to Campbell to purchase a share of the Metropolitan Magazine, and refused security.—And he gave thought, took trouble, used influence, and adventured advice. This was the conduct and the method of the last of the patrons of literature in England.—Miss Martineau's Sketches.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Detective Young, of New York, has made affidavit to the Massachusetts legislative investigating committee in the matter of the Lord Bond robbery, that he had a written power of attorney from Mr. Lord and Mr. Barron, and acted on the advice of Hon. A. Oakey Hall, to recover the money, as there was no reasonable chance of convicting any one; that the only money paid the detectives in Boston was $8,000 for months of service, which resulted in the final recovery of three or four hundred thousand dollars.

It is stated that after June 1st the charges for cable messages of ten words will be $10 in gold, exclusive of address and signature, and one dollar for each additional word, with fifty per cent. discount on press dispatches, except cypher and commercial news, which will be charged full rates.

Union county, Illinois, was lately visited by a fearful hailstorm, some of the hailstones measuring one to two and a-half inches in diameter, and not a few as large as a man's fist. The report adds that the ground was covered in some places two feet deep.

The steamer Arizona, which left New York for Liverpool May 1st, has returned, having broken her shaft ninety miles southeast of the Capes of Virginia. The Rising Star will take her place and cargo and leave to-day for Liverpool.

It is said that Marshal Barlow, of New York, has received a dispatch from Secretary of State, Fish, instructing him to use every precaution to prevent the departure of any expedition for Cuba from New York.

The conference with Southern delegations in regard to the Southern railroads, will take place in Cincinnati to-day. The matter excites great interest.

At the proposed railroad conference at Cincinnati a strong delegation will represent the interests of Knoxville, Tennessee, as the terminus of the proposed Southern railroad.

The Connecticut Senate has ratified the fifteenth amendment—12 republicans to 5 democrats.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONDAY, MAY 10, 1869.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—To Railroad Contractors.

Notice by the Marshal of the State.

OUR Advertising Rates will be published to morrow.

CHEAP LAND.—As we passed the Court House this morning we saw six men gathered; some one was crying land. A tract of 250 acres brought $3.00. Cheap as dirt. We suppose the title was slightly bad.

OUR friends Messrs. Bradley & Christophers, City Confectioners, have presented us with a bag of choice Durhams, manufactured by Z. J. Lyon & Co. We will puff it gentlemen, "with all the breezes of alacrity," and be thankful accordingly.

CHOICE STRAWBERRIES.—Our friend Blair of the Yarborough, does not seem to care for expense. He supplied his bounteous table to-day with large and luscious strawberries that cost 50 cents a quart. They were raised in this place. Fruit raisers might make a note of this. It shows what luxuries will bring in our market. But who but Blair would pay so high a price for choice articles with which to regale his guests? That might be the question.

THE MEMORIAL Ceremonies will take place this afternoon about the time we will go to press. We will give an account to-morrow.

THE MILTONIAN Tableaux are represented to us as singularly grand and imposing. They do not attract as much as the "White Pawn," but that fact is not creditable to the good taste of our people. There will be a Matinee on to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THAT spicy paper, the Roanoke Semi-Weekly News, published at Weldon, Halifax county, is, as we are pleased to learn, increasing in its circulation. It shows enterprise and industry and merits success.

REV. C. DURHAM, a student at Wake Forest College occupied the Baptist pulpit on yesterday, both morning and evening.—He is a young gentleman of decided promise. He is a brother of Hon. Plato Durham.

The Marshal of the State, S. T. Carroll, Esq., publishes to-day an important notice to which we would draw the attention of the Deputies. He wishes all processes and precepts in their hands to be executed at once and returned to the proper office.

"STONEWALL" JACKSON.—We publish to day, the memorable 10th day of May, a beautiful tribute from a Northern pen to this wonderful man. In our day few such characters have stood before the world. Indeed when we study his character as portrayed by those who knew him, (General Grant did not, as the writer well knows as gathered from his own lips,) he is possibly without a rival. He is the highest type of a Christian soldier that possibly this world has yet seen. The English HAVELOCK is the only exalted example of the purely spiritual hero that the army has developed, except on own peerless Jackson. In genius our great Captain was Havelock's superior; in faith, in devotion to God, and in reverence for truth they were equals.

WE learn that the sermon before the "Williams Association" at Davidson College, N. C., at the commencement, will be preached by that eloquent divine, the Rev. Dr. MORAN, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

RIDGEWAY.

This town is going ahead. The new Hotel building will soon be completed.—Other buildings are in course of rapid erection. Under the Act of Incorporation, an election was held, on the first Thursday, the 6th of May, for Mayor and Five Commissioners:

A. T. Johnston was elected Mayor.

J. A. Cheatham, Dr. T. P. Jerman, Dr. J. W. Scott, John H. Morrison, and C. W. Westbrook, were elected Commissioners.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE.—The editor acknowledges the reception of two tickets, the one to attend the "Annual Celebration of the 'Ugly Club,'" on the 24th of June; the other to attend the "Annual Representation" of the "Philanthropic and Eumenean Societies" on the 23rd prox.

As a matter of public interest we publish the programmes.

STATE NEWS.

Stone, of the Weldon News, has been to Oxford, to Tarboro, and Rocky Mount. He praises Tarboro "muchly," rather likes Oxford, and says this among other things, of the Mount and vicinity: "One mile from the town is the large and flourishing cotton mills of the Messrs. Battle, which mills are well and favorably known and which add much to the business of Rocky mount. The place is well to do in the way of lawyers, boasting of three young men, Messrs. Dorsey Battle, Ben Bunn and Capt. Thorp, any one of whom, we image, can successfully collect a bill, defend a criminal, or know full well the art of charging fees."

There is to be a Ball at the Emry House in Weldon, on the 13th inst.

Mr. Thos. Gunter, in Weldon, left Tom Yates, a darkey, in charge of his shoe shop. The News says:

"Thinking to have a little fun, got some of his negro friends around him and indulged in a game at cards, which resulted in his betting away some three pairs of boots, several pairs of shoes, and other things belonging to Mr. Gunter, and which were carried off by the winners. The affair was discovered, however, the negro arrested, and the goods recovered. Yates went to jail to repent over his conduct at leisure."

Ben Wood was tried at Halifax last week for the murder of Wm. Drewry, whose bones were found in the woods near Brinkleyville, in August last, the flesh having been eaten. Wood was acquitted, Generals Cox and Ransom for the prosecution.—Messrs. Jenkins' Day and Solomon for the defence.

THE STEAMBOAT ENTERPRISE.—We are pleased to learn that the projectors of the steamboat line between this city and Johnston continue to meet with much success and that all the arrangements will be completed, and a new, first class and commodious steamer will be plying between Newbern and Smithfield, by the first of July.

A meeting of the citizens of Johnston county will be held on the 18th inst., for the purpose of procuring the subscription of stock.—Newbern Journal of Commerce.

RATHER COOL TO SWEAT.—The Rev. Jas. Sinclair, the "fighting parson," member of the Legislature, and Assessor of Internal Revenue, was in town a few days since, and one of the hands,—that flat-headed negro known as Sweat—went up to call on the aforesaid Colonel. Sweat wore a most resulgent and happy physiognomy, the woolly covering of his cranium looked as slick as if it had been soaked a week, for the occasion, in a pot of goose grease.—But the reception was cool; the parson did'nt sweat muchly and the hand left, disgusted with the white trash.—Pay. Eagle.

KILLED.—We learn that Mr. Henry Satterfield, residing three miles this side of Roxborough, N. C., met with a casualty on Thursday last that resulted in his death on Friday. It seems that he was at his mill engaged with his miller in fixing the mill stones, and having started them to running, a piece of plaster-of-Paris was thrown with tremendous force from the upper stone which hit Mr. Satterfield and so wounded him as to result in his death the next day. The miller was also struck by a piece of the same substance, which knocked him down and stunned him for awhile.

Mr. S. was a worthy citizen of Person county and in the prime of life.—Milton Chron.

BEAUTIFUL MONUMENT.—The heirs of Hon. Richard S. Donnell, have recently had erected over his remains, a most beautiful memento of pure white marble. This monument is now the largest in Cedar Grove Cemetery, being nineteen feet in height, and weighing more than nine thousand pounds. It is a tasteful and ornamental work of art, and was erected, under the supervision of Jas. A. Bryan, Esq., by Mr. Wm. Jones, whose handwork is too well known in the city for us to speak in its praise. It is enough to say that Mr. Jones placed the monument in position with his usual skill.

One face of the marble base bears this inscription:

RICHARD SPAIGHT DONNELL,
Born
September 20, A. D. 1820;
Died
June 3, A. D. 1867.

Hunc semper memimisse juvabit.

While on the reverse are found the following words:

"Beaufort county, his chosen home, records her gratitude for many years of unselfish and distinguished services, upon his honored tomb."—Newbern Journal of Com.

Greensboro is to have a dramatic association and a velocipede rink.

Henry Oliver, of Beaufort, accidently shot himself in the brain last Wednesday. His recovery is hopeless.

ACCIDENT.—At Waccamaw while the dance of the excursionists was at its height yesterday afternoon, an accident occurred to one of the number which effectually put an end to the pleasure of the occasion.—Young Mr. Edward Johnson, one of the guests of the cadets from the city, while dancing, accidently fell upon the floor, and in some singular manner his hand was so caught under him as to cause his wrist to be broken in the fall. The fracture is compound and exceedingly painful.—Wilmington Journal.

The horses hired for use by the steam fire engine company are now kept in the stalls immediately by the engine, with the harness on all the time. The fireman and hostler sleep in the building and the fuel is so arranged that it can be fired in a few seconds.—Ib.

A SINGULAR RECIPROCATION.—The negro Robert Gavin, sentenced to two years' imprisonment at the term of the District Court this week, by act of Congress is sent to the Albany (N. Y.) penitentiary.

We suppose when he arrives there he will be called a carpet bagger from the South.—Ib.

THE POPE WANTS PEACE.—A private letter from Rome, written, says the London Weekly Register, by one likely to be well informed on the subject, says that on the meeting of the Ecumencial Council in December next, one, and only one, political question will be discussed. This will be an endeavor on the part of the Holy Father, as the head of the United Church, to persuade the different nations of Europe to disarm their present enormous and costly armies and fleets, and submit their differences to arbitration. Non-Catholic as well as Catholic powers will be urged not to break the peace, and to give a guaranty or promise that they will not do so. The Holy Father is reported to have said, that of the many felicitations he received on the anniversary of his jubilee, none gave so much pleasure as the unexpected courtesy of the Queen of England, who, although differing from Catholics in matters of faith, has by this simple act bound more firmly than ever in loyalty her many Catholic subjects.

HIGH RITUALISM.—"The Guild of the Holy Cross," a high church Episcopal society, was organized at Christ Church, New York, on Monday, with intensely ritualistic services, the ceremonies on the occasion being nearly alike inform and observance to those of the Catholic Church.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of Scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most cases a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, scrofulous habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbulent life swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, for Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other eruptive or visible forms of the disease caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is so efficient as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The sarsaparilla root of the tropics does not by itself achieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power. So potent is this union of healing virtues, Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, abscess, etc., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for a General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unaccustomed persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,075,000,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

STONE WALL JACKSON.

The memory of Stonewall Jackson has received few tributes more touching in simplicity and pathos than the following beautiful poem, published in the New York Citizen, of which Mr. Charles G. Halpine was the editor. The poem in question is from the pen of a distinguished officer of the United States Navy:

He sleeps all quietly and cold
Beneath the soil that gave him birth;
Then break his battle brand in twain,
And lay it with him in the earth.

No more at midnight shall he urge
His tollsome march along the pines;
Nor hear upon the morning air
The war shout of his charging lines.

Cold is the eye whose meteor gleam
Flashed hope on all within its light;
And still the voice that thrilled its tones
Rang through the storm-rent ranks of fight.

No more for him shall cannon bark,
Or bolts gleam white upon the plain;
And where his camp fires blazed of yore
Brown reapers laugh amid the grain.

No more above his narrow bed
Shall sound the tread of marching feet,
The rifle volley and the clash
Of sabres when the foemen meet.

And though the winds of autumn rave,
And winter snow fall thick and deep
Above his breast, they cannot move
The quiet of his dreamless sleep.

We may not raise a marble shaft
Above the heart that now is dust;
But nature, like a mother fond,
Will ne'er forget her sacred trust.

Young April o'er his lowly mound
Shall shake the violets from her hair;
And glorious June, with fervid kiss,
Shall bid the roses blossom there.

And round about the droning bee
With drowsy hum shall come and go;
While westwinds all the livelong day
Shall murmur dirges, soft and low.

The warrior's fate is sealed now.
The midnight gloom hath passed away;
And like a glory from the East
Breaks the first light of Freedom's day!

And where we won our onward way,
With fire and steel, through yonder wood,
The blackbird whistles, and the quail
Gives answer to her timid brood.

Wheedon's Excelsior Labor-Saving WASHING COMPOUND.
Patented Sept. 22, 1868.

REASONS FOR PREFERRING THIS SOAP.

The Patentee claims for this Soap the following advantages which are clearly set forth in the Letters Patent, to-wit:

First, it can be manufactured at less than half the cost of any soap ever produced.

Secondly, it may be used successfully in any kind of water—cold or hot, hard or soft.

Thirdly, it so modifies the action of boiling water on woollen goods that their fibres do not contract under its influence, and your woollen garment is as large after boiling as before.

Fourth, it does not decompose the colors of goods, and your prints and stripes are as brilliant after washing as before.

Fifth the goods do not require any rubbing or patent washing machine—all that is necessary is a few minutes boiling and a good rinsing.

LIFE INSURANCE.

NATIONAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,
$1,000,000,
PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so fuddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

NATIONAL

$1,000,000

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.
Amount insured, $10,005,550.00
Total Premiums, 350,117.03

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 902
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 693
" New England Mutual, 343
" Phoenix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, 1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,842 "
this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

FIRST CLASS NEWSPAPER.

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks, so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

We paid the State near Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her Interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $40,000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South, than any other Line.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES
WITHOUT LABOR.
THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blankets. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State.
